

Environmental Policy

W.A. Browne (Building Services) Ltd is a contractor specialising in dry lining and plastering, and is also a manufacturer and installer of light-weight steel frame solutions for the construction industry. W.A. Browne recognises that its activities, products and services have an impact on the environment.

W.A. Browne makes an effort to create a company culture in order to manage significant environmental aspects through the following commitments:

- Compliance with all relevant environmental legislation as a minimum
- Prevention of pollution from all activities, products and services
- Continual improvement of environmental performance by:
 - Reducing the unnecessary consumption of resources such as energy, water and materials
 - Managing controlled waste and effluent with due care and aim to reduce unnecessary production of these outputs
 - Recycling main waste streams where practical

Ensuring all employees are made aware and understand the policy and potential environmental impact of our business activity

W.A. Browne (Building Services) Ltd will review the environmental policy on a regular basis to ensure that it accurately reflects our environmental management system.

The environmental policy is communicated to all staff and others working for W.A. Browne. It is also available to the public via W.A. Browne's website.
